WHAT TO GIVE UP IN LENT: The preceding is the title of the following taken from World Christian Digest:

Give up grumbling; instead "in everything give thanks."

Give up 10 to 15 minutes in bed; instead use that time in prayer.

Give up looking at people's worst points; instead concentrate on their best ones.

Give up speaking unkindly; instead let your speech be generous and understanding.

Give up your worries; instead trust God with them.

Give up hatred or dislike of anyone; instead learn to love.

Give up the fear which prevents Christian witness; instead seek courage to speak to others.

Give up concentration on Sunday newspapers; instead study your Bible.

Give one evening a week to visit some lonely or sick person.

Give up unnecessary things and give the money to God's work.

Give up judging by appearances and by the standards of the world; instead learn to give up yourself, to God.

E. B. WEBSTER, who can tell you a lot about weather in past years, got caught in some current weather Wednesday morning.

He went to Benton on business and was caught in the flood on East Main street there.

The Benton Evening News reports several streets were closed to traffic while scores of homes were flooded when sewers backed up into basements. Many homes were without heat as rising water covered stoker motors.

Rain was falling so heavily, the story related, that checkers at the Benton Forestry Station and the Benton Pumping Station were having trouble keeping up with the totals.

Engineer Describes Coal Mines in Poland During Tour by Group Here

A coal mine where men are now working 2,300 feet below the ground, and where 16 coal seams are being worked consecutively was described through an interpreter last night by Zbigniew Boratynski, chief engineer of the Bobrek coal mines 12 miles from Katowice, Poland.

Boratynski, one of a group of Polish mining men on tour of the coal fields of the United States under the sponsorship of the U. S. State department, answered questions that were presented him through the State department interpreter, Roman K. Wasilewski of Richmond, Va.

The group of seven Polish men, their interpreter, and Harry Gandy Jr. and T. W. Kienlen of the National Coal association left by bus early today for Terre Haute, Ind., after spending yesterday in the Sahara Coal Co. properties west of Harrisburg.

7,200 Work at Mine

Sahara was host to the group last night and it was at that time that Boratynski told of his mine.

There are 21 seams of bituminous coal in this mine, he stated, ranging from 40 inches to 30 feet thick. There are two shafts for bringing up coal and one auxiliary shaft to transport men, material and some of the coal.

One continuous cage goes down to the bottom.

Boratynski, who holds an engineering degree from the Academy of Mining, said that 7,200 men are working three eight-hour shifts 316 days a year at his mine, that 9,500 tons of coal are mined per day.

Their mining methods consist of undercutting blasting and loading on conveyors which are the length of the "long wall." There are 16 miles of belt in the mine which carry coal from the face to cars.

His mine has 23 working sections, with either two or three faces to a section.

Says Miners Happy

Jerzy (which is George) Jaczewski, director of the Central Administration of Mines, did not need an interpreter, because he had lived for five years in New York City before returning to Poland.

Jaczewski, who is director of the Central Administration which is in charge of development of new mines, declared coal miner wages in Poland are the highest in the industry, that the miners there are happy. He told of his work in developing the industry because more coal is needed.

Right now, he said, the country is producing 100 million tons of bituminous coal and seven million tons of lignite a year, with exports totalling 23 million tons.

Interested in Stripping

Practically all the mines are deep operations, he stated, although the country is intensively interested in stripping. That, he said, is one of the things the group is studying most in America. There is some stripping for lignite in his country now but none for bituminous coal, he declared.

Arriving yesterday and joining the group last night were Yugoslav mining men, J. F. Hrasnik, superintendent of the Kreka Lignite mine, and A. J. Pamic, technical director of the Kostolac mine. They are here under the sponsorship of the International Co-Operative administration, coming here after an American consulting firm called to Yugoslavia recommended that key mining personnel be sent to the United States to observe operating methods and related subjects. They will be here for a week.

Tossed by Three Ejected Men

Homemade Bomb Kills 6 in Bar

LOS ANGELES — Three angry men who had been ejected from a bar tossed an oversized homemade bomb into the crowded cafe-saloon shortly before midnight Thursday, killing six persons and injuring three others.

The coroner's office reported five men and one woman died in the explosion that demolished the Mecca Cafe and created a panic.

Earlier firemen said seven bodies had been taken from the blackened cafe but one of the persons believed dead, Mrs. Barbara Spilli, survived but was hospitalized with burns over most of her body.

Police immediately combed the city for the three men who stood at the cafe door and tossed the five-gallon can full of gasoline to the floor. One of the three tossed a lighted match on the toppled can and the cafe and the entire block rocked with a terrific explosion.

Ordered to Leave Bar

Witnesses said patrons came stumbling out of the flaming cafe with their clothes on fire.

"One woman's hair was burning," George Pennebaker said. "I dashed out. I don't know how. I must have stumbled over several persons before I made the door. We were all coughing and trying to breathe outside. I got some oxygen from a rescue crew."

Police Inspector Thomas Reddin said the three men had been in the bar but were ordered to leave by Larry Finton, the bartender, because they couldn't produce proper identification. California law requires a person to be at least 21 years old in order to be served liquor.

Annoyed Customer

Witnesses said the men had argued with Finton earlier and had

Budget Cuts by House Group Top Billion Mark

Committee Accepts 'Dare' by Commerce Secretary Weeks

WASHINGTON (U.P.)—The House Appropriations Committee today slashed 26 per cent from the budget of Commerce Secretary Sinclair Weeks who had "dared" Congress to cut it.

If approved by the House, the reduction will push over the one-billion-dollar mark the total cuts made by the House in President Eisenhower's record peacetime spending budget of $71,800,000,000.

The committee approved $591,387,060 to run the Commerce Department in the next year instead of the $803,790,000 requested by Weeks.

It also trimmed the budget for a group of independent commerce agencies from $50,075,000 to $45,649,400, and for the Panama Canal from $17,648,000 to $16,684,600. All the cuts added up to $217,827,940.

They pushed to $1,039,245,740 the total reductions imposed so far by the committee or by the House itself in acting on administration appropriation requests totaling $14,302,812,601. The total cuts amount to about 7.3 per cent of the amounts sought.

The deep committee cuts in the commerce budget followed House passage Thursday night of a lightly cut $2,800,000,000 appropriations bill for the Labor and Health, Education and Welfare departments.

The committee acted after closed-door hearings by a subcommittee at which Weeks was asked to explain remarks he made about budget-cutting on television March 17.

Weeks was quoted as saying that "if Congress wants to start cutting," it could take 50 million dollars out of his budget. The committee cuts in Weeks' budget alone totaled $212,402,940.

The committee voted to reduce the Maritime Administration's funds for ship construction from $94,500,000 to $3,000,000 leaving only enough to replace some ships and for research.

Funds removed from this section included 62 million dollars earmarked for building a new superliner to replace the S. S. America as a sister ship to the S. S. United States.

The committee also knocked out all funds for the controversial Office of Strategic Information for which Weeks sought $101,500.

The OSI is supposed to censor non-secret information flowing to Communist nations. The House Government Operations Committee recommended its abolition, saying the agency operated "in an aura of complete confusion" and could not justify its existence.

The Appropriations Committee said the Commerce Department and the other agencies sought funds to add 7,126 new employees. The amount approved by the committee would reduce this to 4,038.

The committee also ordered a big cut in the Civil Aeronautics Administration budget. Weeks asked for $410,550,000, compared with $245,425,136 appropriated for the agency a year ago.

Rain and Fog in State; Rivers Near Top of Banks

By United Press

Illinois was wrapped in a thick blanket of fog and rain today as high winds, sleet and freezing rain slapped at the rest of the Midwest.

The Weather Bureau predicted more of the same tonight and into Saturday with temperatures slowly dropping to near the freezing mark.

At least two deaths were traced to the three days of steady drizzle. Milan Karapandza, 4, Buckner, drowned Thursday when he fell into a five foot deep hole full of water from the rains. Earlier Bennie White, 5, Vandalia, was swept down a flooded stream and drowned.

Temperatures over the area ranged from 50 along the southeastern border of the state where clearing skies were expected today to the low 30s in the north.

Along Lake Michigan a heavy fog layer made driving hazardous as visibility dropped to half a mile or less. Freezing rain moving in from the north and west was expected to disperse the fog by afternoon but the weather bureau warned of slippery highways and the possibility of snow tonight.

Rivers in the southern part of the state were reported near the top of their banks but there were no reports of flooding. The Wabash River which becomes the Illinois-Indiana boundary south of Terre Haute, was above flood stage at some points in Indiana.

Water levels in ponds and streams were at their highest mark in several years.

Cairo reported well over three inches of rain in the last two days. Marion and the surrounding area had nearly four inches and farther north Springfield and Peoria reported slightly more than two inches.

National Park Official to Speak at Shawnee Meeting

William C. Carnes, chief of Mission 66, National Park Director's Office, Washington, D. C., will speak at the April meeting of the Shawnee Hills Recreation association to be held at 6:30 p. m. Monday, April 15, at Shawneetown.

This will be a general meeting for all Shawnee Hills Recreation association members, prospective members and guests. The dinner meeting will be held at the American Legion home, or at the high school if reservations run over 150 persons. Reservations must be in to James Galt at Shawneetown by Friday, April 12, and soon-er if possible.

George Scherrer of Shawneetown, president of the SHRA, said Mission 66 is a five-year plan to expand the national parks and that Mr. Carnes is one of the top officials in the program. He was secured for the meeting by Cong. Kenneth Gray.

Boy, 4, Drowns in Flooded Hole

BUCKNER, Ill. — Milan Karapandza, 4, drowned late Thursday when he tumbled into a five-foot hole flooded by recent rains.

Coroner Barney Browning said the victim apparently was playing near the excavation and slipped into the water. He said the hole, dug for a fuel tank, had been dry until recently.

To Canvass Township Vote Saturday

The Harrisburg township vote cast Tuesday will be canvassed starting at 8 a. m. tomorrow in the town clerk's office in the basement of the court house. Zola Sloan, town clerk, announced today.

The canvassing board is composed of Supervisor Virgil Ferrell, Assessor Clyde Hess and Mrs. Sloan.

Pumps in Use At Flood Gates

The city of Harrisburg this morning was pumping water in and pumping water out.

Although the standby reservoirs north of town were full for all practical purposes, two smaller pumping units were still pumping water from Middle Fork into them.

And since yesterday afternoon the huge pumps at the flood protection pumping stations have been pumping water through the levee.

The levee gates at the North Harrisburg pumping station, through which the West Harrisburg drainage ditch flows, were lowered and the pumps started there at 4 p. m. The Pankey branch station pumps were started at 5:30 p. m.

These pumps were started after the water in Middle Fork rose to past 20 feet and the water in the ditches stopped flowing through the levee openings. The gauge this morning read 22.18 and was still rising although the crest was expected this afternoon around 2:30 or 3 p. m.

The Weather Bureau at Evansville predicted a crest of 36 feet on the Ohio river at Shawneetown next Wednesday. This is two feet below the stage where lowlands begin flooding.

W. E. Leipp, 66, Dies at Galatia

W. E. Leipp, 66, died at 5 a. m. today at his home in Galatia.

He is survived by his wife, Marie; and two sisters, Mrs. Louise Seifort and Mrs. Bertha Seifort, both of St. Louis.

Funeral services will be held at 11 a. m. Sunday at the Courtney funeral chapel with interment in Lebanon cemetery. The body will lie in state at the funeral home until time for the services.

He was a member of the Galatia Masonic lodge and a World War I veteran. There will be military rites at the cemetery.

Jenkins Rites at Galatia Saturday

Funeral services will be held at Galatia Baptist church Saturday at 11 a. m. for Robert Jenkins, 78, who died at his home in Peoria Wednesday. Burial will be in Sunset Hill cemetery, Harrisburg.

In addition to the survivors mentioned yesterday, he leaves a sister, Mrs. Lee Skaggs of Eldorado. The body is at Courtney funeral home in Galatia.

McSparin Funeral Sunday at 2 p. m.

Rites will be held Sunday at 2 p. m. at Gaskins funeral chapel for Mrs. Minnie McSparin, 77, who died at the White County Nursing home in Carmi Wednesday.

The Rev. Ernest Tison will officiate and burial will be in Spring Valley cemetery.

Tally Shows 39 Dead, 1,000 Hurt by Storms

Blizzard Blows Itself Out in Midwest Areas

By United Press

Tornadoes and windstorms heaped more damage and death on the South today while the blizzard in the Midwest blew itself out.

The storm in Dixie was aggravated by flood threats developing along scores of rivers and streams.

Two Negro children were killed early today when a tornado hit near Ellaville, Ga. Windstorms and twisters struck elsewhere in Georgia and the Carolinas.

A United Press tally showed at least 39 persons killed and nearly 1,000 injured in a dozen states since the vast spring storm moved out of the west Tuesday.

Tornadoes had killed 19 persons — 11 in Texas, 5 in Oklahoma, 2 in Georgia and 1 in Mississippi. The blizzard was blamed for 5 deaths in Colorado, 2 in Nebraska and 1 each in South Dakota and Utah. Other storm deaths were reported in Indiana, Mississippi, Illinois, Iowa and Wisconsin and a youth drowned in a flooded creek in central Ohio.

Tornado warnings were issued for eastern North Carolina and northeastern South Carolina at mid-morning today, and the Weather Bureau reported unconfirmed twisters near Clarks Hill, Batesburg, Newberry and Ridgeway, S. C.

91 Safe on Ship

High winds near Raleigh, N. C., leveled a tobacco warehouse under construction and injured five workmen.

A tornado smashed plate glass windows and felled three near Warner Robins, Ga., scene of a disastrous twister four years ago.

Heavy rain and high winds threatened for a time to delay the Masters golf tournament at Augusta, where homes and churches were damaged and trees uprooted. Two persons were injured in the area.

At Mackinac City, Mich., a Coast Guard icebreaker secured lines to the car-ferry vacationland to pull the vessel off a sand bar where it was shoved and blown by ice floes and winds up to 70 miles per hour Thursday. There were 91 persons aboard, all reported safe.

In Indiana, flood waters rolled across lowlands as residents tried to clean up the debris from Wednesday's ice storm. The Wabash and White Rivers were falling at some points and rising at others.

Blizzard in Plains

Drenching rains moved eastward out of the lower Mississippi Valley into the south Atlantic states early today and the Weather Bureau in Atlanta warned of the possibility of flash floods for portions of Georgia and South Carolina.

Heaviest rain was reported across the southern Appalachians toward the Gulf of Mexico. Mobile, Ala., had more than eight inches so far this week, five of which fell Thursday.

Blowing snow lashed by gusts up to 60 miles an hour stranded travellers in Wyoming and Colorado. Up to four feet of snow buried the mountain states area earlier in the week.

The Weather

Illinois: Cloudy and colder with occasional light snow west and south and rain mixed with snow northeast tonight probably ending south early tonight. Saturday cloudy and cold with some light snow or rain northeast Saturday morning. Low tonight 32-37 southeast. High Saturday 39-43 south.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says: 87
Senators Ducked Out On Roll-Call Vote On Oil Tax Benefits; Big Oil Men Contributed $344,000 To GOP Election Campaign; Oil Senator Kerr Helped Kill Roll Call.

WASHINGTON. — A little-noticed but vitally important incident took place on the Senate floor the other day. It occurred in full view of the press galleries, but very little appeared in the newspapers about it.

Two senators, first a Republican, Williams of Delaware; then a Democrat, Douglas of Illinois, tried to get a roll-call vote on a move to reduce the tax concessions given to the big oil and gas companies. They could not get even 10 senators to raise their hands.

The 10 hands needed were not necessarily to vote against the oil companies, but to record the vote either for or against oil. But 87 senators ducked out, didn't want the public to know how they voted on oil.

When you couple this with the hundreds of thousands of dollars dumped into the presidential and

Senate campaigns last year, it indicates a political circle of great importance to the American people.

The circle goes round and round,
like this: "The oil men get tax concessions. They use the money they save on taxes to elect their friends as senators and their man as President. Then their senators cooperate by voting for continued
tax concessions."

Little of this, however, was recorded for the public to read and know about.

Here is the full story of what happened.

HONEST TAX CHAMPION

Sen. Williams is a staunch Republican turkey farmer and feed dealer who, coming from the Du Pont state of Delaware, could not easily be elected if he were not a conservative. He had been waging a long-time campaign for honest taxes and honest tax collection. For a time, got some support from Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey, who stated publicly that the 27 1-2 per cent depletion allowance given the oil industry was too much.

Before the corporate tax bill
came up for renewal last week, therefore, Williams appealed to Humphrey to support a reduction.
Humphrey declined. Williams nevertheless moved in the Senate to reduce the 27 1-2 per cent bonanza to 15 per cent. He got nowhere.

So two fellow Republicans, Aiken of Vermont and Potter of Michigan, gave him whispered advice to try a compromise at 20 per cent. He did so. But a roar of negative votes drowned this proposal too.

Those leading the "no" chorus
were Democrats Lyndon Johnson of Texas, great friend of the oil
lobby, Russell Long of Louisiana, who owns underwater oil lands in the Gulf of Mexico; and Frank Carlson (Kans.) with Everett Dirksen (Ill.), Republicans.

Williams then tried for a show of hands to get a roll-call vote to require senators' names to be recorded for and against the oil companies. He got only four hands: Douglas (Ill.), Neuberger (Ore.), Democrats; with Aiken
and his own (Williams') hand, Republicans.

Then Douglas, a former economics professor at the University of Chicago and a tax expert,
proposed a further compromise.
He urged that little oil companies with a net income of less than $1,000,000 be allowed the full 27 1-2 per cent tax benefit. Companies with a net income of $1, 000,000 to $5,000,000, he proposed,
should get 20 per cent allowance.
Companies making more than

$5,000,000, he moved, should get 15 per cent.

This, however, was also roared down. Democratic leader Lyndon Johnson led the chorus.

POCKETBOOK SENATOR

Then Douglas asked for a roll-call vote. He needed 10 hands.
The Democrats pride themselves on being the champions of little business and the common man.
Only six of them, however, were willing to stand up and be counted: Lausche of Ohio, McNamara of Michigan, Humphrey of Minnesota, Carroll of Colorado, Neu-berger and Douglas. Three Republicans also raised their hands:
Javits of New York, Aiken and Williams.

While Williams and Douglas
made repeated pleas for a roll-call vote, Senators Long, Kerr, Carlson and Dirksen, together with Lyndon Johnson, slipped around on the Senate floor, urging colleagues to keep their hands down.

Afterward Sen. Kerr confided to Charlie Murray, son of the elder statesman senator from Montana:
"If they'd got a roll call, the opposition could have rolled up 40
votes against us."

By "us," he meant the oil companies. Sen. Kerr, through his company, Kerr-McGee owns $10, 000,000 of oil-gas lands, on which he has received a gross income as high as $14,000,000. In 1950 his net was $1,218,627, on which his company paid a tax of only $6, 949—as a result of generous tax benefits given the oil industry.

A senator who has a pocketbook interest in any legislation is not supposed to vote on it, let alone lobby. But Sen. Kerr was busy as a bird-dog blocking any roll call on the oil depletion allowance.

Sen. Kerr's lobbying was highly successful. Only nine senators voted for a roll-call. The so-called liberal senators who either weren't present or ducked out included: Murray and Mansfield of Montana, the latter being the Democratic whip; Magnuson and Jackson of Washington; Morse of Oregon; Green and Pastore
of Rhode Island; Hennings and Symington of Missouri; Sparkman and Hill of Alabama; Kennedy of Massachusetts; O'Mahoney
of Wyoming; Scott of North Carolina; and Gore of Tennessee.

Though Gore was minus on the roll call, he did a great service to the country by carefully recording the recent contributions of the big oil companies. Here is part of the oil roll call:

The Rockefeller family of Standard Oil, $152,000 to Ike; the Pew family of Sun Oil, $216,000 to Ike; the Mellon family of Gulf Oil, $100,000 to Ike; officials of Tidewater Oil, $27,000 to Ike; plus

ROADMASTER 75

Custom Built by Buick NOW ON DISPLAY

A NEW CONCEPT in motorcar excellence awaits your inspection in the ROADMASTER 75 just introduced.

You will see what we mean the first time you glimpse the interior.

The impeccable tailoring and taste of the rich appointments are as obvious as the comfort is opulent.

The seats, for example.

They are meticulously fashioned in glove-finished fabrics of broadcloth or Nylon, with backs topped in supple, hand-buffed leather.
They are thickly layered with contoured foam rubber. They are wide, deep, superbly soft.

The doors present a new standard of luxury and restfulness—fully upholstered and softly cushioned from floor line to window.

The instrument panel, below the safety cushion, is chromed from end to end. The deep-pile carpeting is backed by foam. The integral arm-rests are fully in keeping with the spacious grace of the car.

The complete interior is matched by the mechanical excellence that is ROADMASTER tradition.

Indeed, nowhere else among the world's fine cars can you enjoy superb performance quite like that of a ROADMASTER 75—from the instant response of its brilliant new Dynaflo, to the smooth obedience of its all-new air-cooled aluminum front brakes—newest and the finest in the fine-car field.

Bill Groves

.... your reading lamp
and the $200,000,000

What do Bill Groves and all that money have to do with your reading lamp? Plenty!

Bill is a lineman for Central Illinois Public Service Company. He helps install and maintain nearly 10,000 miles of transmission and distribution lines . . . the lines needed to deliver electricity to you and other CIPS customers in 500 central and southern Illinois communities.

The 200 million dollars is the amount that has been invested so Bill and the company can bring you dependable electric service . . . service that enables you to reach up and turn on your reading lamp any time you feel like it.

Bill and 1700 more of us at CIPS understand the importance of such responsibility, and gladly accept it.
We're proud of the fact that you expect our service to be continuous.

But, if trouble does occur on our lines, any time of the day or night, be assured that Bill Groves and the other specialists on his maintenance team will see that you are using your lamp again in the shortest possible time.

Good reading!

CIPS customers today use five times as much electricity as in 1930. They pay only half as much per kilowatt hour.

House Committee Questions Need For Federal Prison in Midwest

WASHINGTON (AP)—Government plans for a 10-million-dollar federal prison in the Midwest ran into rough sledding before a House Appropriations subcommittee, testimony released today showed.

Rep. John J. Rooney (D-NY), subcommittee chairman, said "There might be a pretty fair justification for the deferment" of the project until federal prison populations increase or until the Federal Bureau of Prisons "show the Congress you really have to have a new institution."

James V. Bennett, director of the Prison Bureau, said the need for the new maximum security penitentiary is "imperative and pressing." He supported a $1,800,000 budget request to start work on the new 600-man institution in the year beginning July 1.

The Prison Bureau is considering sites in southern Illinois, southeastern Missouri, western Kentucky and northwestern Tennessee for the prison. A special committee has inspected a number of proposed locations for the prison, but no decision has been announced.

Rooney also asked Bennett about the proposed site of the prison, but the director said it would be "unwise" to make the results of the committee's investigation "until final action is taken."

Bennett said he wanted to avoid the risk of land speculation in the area chosen for the prison, whether the actual land to be used was federally owned or not.

"Our experience has been that housing projects go up around them, gas stations and so forth, and the land anywhere near becomes quite valuable," Bennett said.

House Group Expects Delay in Postal Cutback

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Appropriations Committee today promised to consider next Friday provision of funds to stave off a cut in postal service. Members said they expect the post office to delay until then the cuts it planned to impose at midnight tonight.

Rep. John J. Rooney (D-NY) said a request for such a delay was inherent in a compromise move which he sponsored and the committee approved at a lively closed-door session today.

The committee, after a series of deadlocks, agreed finally to advise Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield he will get at least 17 million of the $47 million he says he must have and that the committee will consider next Friday whether to give him the rest.

Summerfield was not specifically asked to delay the scheduled postal reductions. Committee Chairman Clarence Cannon (D-Mo) said it is up to the Post Office Department to decide what to do.

Rep. John Taber (R-NY), ranking minority member of the committee, said he believed a week's delay might be possible. However, he said if Summerfield agrees to this, and then fails to get the extra funds, the necessary cutbacks to balance his budget will be even deeper than planned.

Newer Weapons To Offset Red Buildup in Korea

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States is planning to put newer-model weapons in Korea to partly offset a reported Communist military buildup in North Korea, American officials disclosed today.

The action will be taken under a liberal new interpretation of the 1953 armistice which ended the Korean fighting. There is no intention of declaring the armistice void despite repeated evidence of Communist violations.

Some highly-placed persons have suggested that the United States and its fighting partners in Korea declare the 1953 armistice agreement dead because of the Communist infractions.

Seaton Undergoes An Operation

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Interior Fred A. Seaton underwent a two-hour operation at Walter Reed Army Medical center today to relieve a recurring back injury.

Physicians reported to Lorne Kennedy, Seaton's assistant, that the operation was "entirely successful" and that his condition was "good."

3,481 Chest X-Rays During Mobile Unit Visit

The mobile chest x-ray program in Saline county ended March 30, with a total of 3,481 persons getting a chest x-ray. This was an all-time low in Saline county for number of persons x-rayed since the Egyptian Health Department has been in operation, according to Dr. James H. Wells, director of the Health Department.

The unit started in Carrier Mills on March 19 where a total of 493 persons were x-rayed. On March 20 the unit operated in Galatia with 283 persons getting their chest x-ray. The unit located in front of the court house in Harrisburg on March 21-22-23 with a total of 1601 persons being x-rayed. The unit ended operation in Eldorado on March 29 and 30 with 1104 persons being x-rayed.

This program was sponsored by the Egyptian Health Department and the Saline County Tuberculosis Association for the purpose of affording Saline county residents an opportunity to get a free chest x-ray. All persons age 15 and over were urged to take advantage of this service. Why the apathy of Saline county residents toward this program is difficult to understand. Particularly since tuberculosis is still a major health problem in this area.

The Egyptian Health Department would like to express its thanks to the volunteers who donated their time and service which is so urgently needed to make possible a program of this kind. Also, it would like to express thanks to all persons who participated in this program designed to stamp out tuberculosis.

It is hoped that in the following years, more people will take advantage of this service and give their support to these programs. Community support is a must for any program to be a success. Only when everyone participates in these programs can a disease such as tuberculosis be wiped out. Just because you had an x-ray the previous year does not mean you do not need one the following year.

Steer School Bill Away from Economy Drive

By United Press
House supporters of a two-billion-dollar compromise school construction bill today devised a strategy of delay to steer clear of the congressional economy drive.

They planned to hold up the bill until early summer in hopes that the economy drive will have slowed by then. They said the school construction program never would get by budget cutters now.

A House Education subcommittee approved the bill Thursday. It was a compromise between President Eisenhower's five-year, $1,300,000,000 program and a Democratic-sponsored plan calling for $3,600,000,000 to be spread over a six-year period.

Mr. Eisenhower continued his campaign for a construction program Thursday night. He told educators that "our schools are more important than our Nike batteries . . . and more powerful even than the energy of the atom."

U. I. Student Kills Himself

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP)—Authorities said today a University of Illinois honor student apparently took his own life by drinking cyanide poison.

The youth, Richard Record, 20, a junior in engineering physics, died Wednesday shortly after he had been questioned by university authorities concerning a prank involving a sorority.

Record, Mount Vernon, went to a rooming house where he formerly lived after the questioning session.

The landlady said he carried a soft drink, apparently purchased at a nearby campus store. The landlady, Mrs. Otto Ottosen, said Record apparently mixed the poison in the soft drink and drank it. She called an ambulance when he collapsed, but Record was dead on arrival at a hospital.

Coroner Don Wikoff said the death was apparent suicide.

University officials had questioned Record about signs painted around the campus and handbills distributed concerning the Pi Beta Phi sorority.

Authorities said the handbills were of an obscene nature. Record had denied any part in the signs and handbills.

Authorities said the group responsible for the signs and handbills also apparently was planning a "raid" on the sorority Friday.

Record, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund E. Record, was described as "practically a straight 'A' student."

Get Acquainted With Teachers, Eisenhower Urges

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower Thursday night strongly urged the nation's parents to take a more active interest in getting to know their children's teachers.

The President told the National Education Assn. that he was "astonished" to learn in talks with groups across the nation that many parents did not know their children's teachers.

He said he found many fathers who when asked if they had participated in the activities of their children's school could not positively say they had.

The President said that when he asked the question, many parents looked at him "as though I was a little bit off my rocker."

Mr. Eisenhower renewed his drive for a federal school construction program, calling the nation's schools more important to national defense than nuclear weapons.

He spoke only a matter of hours after a House Education subcommittee approved a compromise five-year school construction program that would cost two billion dollars.

Reveal New Soviet Nuclear Test

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States announced today that Russia conducted another nuclear weapons test last Wednesday.

The brief announcement by Chairman Lewis L. Strauss of the Atomic Energy Commission said the test was another in Russia's "current series" but did not specify the size of the bomb or whether one or more bombs were exploded.

The Rev. Chalen Terrell, Former Area Minister, Dies at Mount Vernon

The Rev. Chalen Terrell, 53, minister of the Mt. Pleasant Baptist church, died suddenly at his home in Mt. Vernon Wednesday night. He had formerly been pastor of several churches in southern Illinois.

The body will lie in state at the Kittinger funeral home in Carmi until the funeral which will be held Saturday at 2 p. m. in the General Baptist church at Omaha. The Rev. O. R. Fulcher will officiate assisted by the Rev. Don Rister and the Rev. James Karber. Burial will be in the city cemetery at Enfield.

Tax Writer Promises Cuts

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Richard M. Simpson (R-Pa) said today taxpayers can count on substantial tax relief possibly this year but certainly by next year.

Simpson, a high-ranking Republican on the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee, disclosed that he plans soon to introduce a bill to provide for billions of dollars worth of reductions in both personal income taxes and levies on corporation income.

Simpson said his bill would provide for a "modest increase" in the $600 personal exemptions and for some revisions in the taxation of capital gains. He said the measure is aimed at providing $5,500,000,000 to $6,000,000,000 in tax relief.

Simpson took issue with those who contend that big tax cuts must await sharp reductions in federal spending. He has been outspoken in his criticism of President Eisenhower's record-high spending budget.

"If we want to cut spending," he told a reporter, "the way to do it is to cut taxes. That will force the government to cut back spending to live within its income."

Police Skeptical At Story by French War Vet

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—Police expressed skepticism today over a handsome French war veteran's story that he killed a retired American general and his wife because they tried to prevent his suicide.

Investigation has revealed, police said, that the veteran, 43-year-old ex-Foreign Legionnaire Maurice Chavigny, was about to be deported from the United States because his tourist visa had expired.

Chavigny said he shot Brig. Gen. Wilbur R. McReynolds and the general's youthful-looking wife Wednesday night because they tried to prevent him from committing suicide. He also implied

XXVIII

The 1868 cattle season opened with a bang—the bang of Marshal Wild Jack's .44.

He killed a Texas cowboy that first day and then he disappeared into a secret hiding place, while Texas cowboys sloshed through the mud of Main Street, searching for the kill-crazy city marshal.
They couldn't find Wild Jack, so they vented their rage upon the town itself. Windows were smashed in half the stores on the street and there were now more than two full blocks of stores.

Eighteen sixty-seven had been a Sunday school picnic compared to 1868. The word had gone around in Texas, on the Chisholm Trail between Texas and Pawnee City, Kan.

Pawnee City had a city marshal who was the fastest draw west of the Mississippi, the best pistol shot in the country. A Yankee who hated Texas.

Well, fine, fine! Texas men hated the Yankee carpet-baggers who made their lives miserable in their native habitat. Even more they hated all things north of the Red River, Indians in the Indian Nations, faro dealers with trick card
boxes, shortchange artists . . .
and city marshals who killed Texas men, or buffaloed them and caused them to be fined by the justice of the peace of Pawnee City, Kan.

They came into Pawnee City looking for trouble. They sought it out and welcomed it. They smashed furniture in the saloons,
they broke mirrors and glasses.
Much glassware. Windows in the stores. They shot up the town and now then they tried to tree
the town, take it over completely and hold sway over it for an hour, or two hours. Then they started back down The Trail with little, if any, money in their pockets. Hangovers and headaches were usually all they had left of their weeks of toil.

...
The supervisors of Pawnee City had two meetings in June, one a private one, in the back of Buffington's store, attended by the supervisors only, and another in the courtroom over the jail and marshal's office. Mayor Joe Jagger presided over this second meeting.

He directed his opening remarks at Publisher Charles Fesler. "I'm fed up with your newspaper's policies," he said angrily, "and I don't mind telling you that I resent your continual insinuations about me.
I'm making it clear, right here and now, that I'm heading no ticket that includes your name."

"Mr. Mayor," interrupted Fes-ler, "you're expressing my personal sentiments precisely. I won't allow my name to be on the same ballot with yours."

"Hold your tongue, Fesler!"
roared Joe Jagger. "I'm in charge of this meeting and I'll let you know when it's time for you to talk."

He stopped and looked around at the faces of the board of supervisors. There was no approval on the faces of Alfred Buffington, John Thompson, Harlow Tar-box or Charles Fesler. Only Justice of the Peace Judson Drake nodded his head in approval. And he stopped nodding it the moment he realized that he was registering approval of Joe Jagger.

"Mr. Jagger," Buffington said patiently, "I take in more money from the farmers than I do from all the Texas cattlemen put together. I don't need the trade of the cattlemen and I don't want it."

"You're selling plows to the sodbusters who are ruining the graze
of the county," snapped Jagger.
"But what about the rest of the businessmen in Pawnee City? They depend on the cattle trade."

"Not me," said John Thompson.
"I don't sell glass. If I did, I'd make a fortune selling window-panes to the people who replace those broken by your cowboys."

Jagger fixed the last speaker with a cold look, then shifted his eyes back to Alfred Buffington.

"All right, Buffington," he said ominously, "finish your piece."

"I've said it. I want a quiet town. Law and order."

"Mr. Jagger," suddenly said Judge Drake, "I am wondering if I do not have the answer to the problem that is bothering some of our good friends. During recent weeks, I have heard considerable criticism of our city marshal. I have even heard it said that—haha! the remedy is worse than the ailment! I would like to suggest,
with all due respect to everyone concerned, that the services of Marshal Mason be dispensed with."

"Is that what this is about?"
demanded Jagger. "You want me to fire Wild Jack Mason?"

"We want you to step out as mayor!" shouted Fesler.

Jagger winced almost as if the newspaperman had struck him with his fist.

He got up from the chair behind the table, walked heavily to the door. There he stopped a moment as if about to turn back and say more on the subject, but he apparently changed his mind, for he went out without another word.

Fesler got to his feet. "Gentlemen, let's settle our biggest problem right here. The office of mayor. Last year you honored me by suggesting me."

"No," said Harlow Tarbox promptly. "You keep everyone stirred up all the time. I'm sure we all know the one man for the job. Chad Morgan."

Bill Introduced to Prohibit Unions From Picketing to Organize

SPRINGFIELD, Ill.—A bill was introduced in the House Thursday to prohibit unions from picketing business places in an effort to organize the employees.

The Illinois Chamber of Commerce announced its support of the bill and said it was "sorely needed" to prevent "abusive tactics of some union leaders in coercing small businessmen to sign contracts under picketing threats."

The bill introduced by Rep. Harold Widmer (R-Freeport) would bar unions from picketing a company where a majority of the employees are not represented by the union.

The bill also would provide for secret elections for employees to decide if they want a union to represent them and what union.

Widmer said the bill was aimed at "organizational picketing" in which unions allegedly picket a business establishment in an effort to put pressure on the employees and owner to sign a union contract.

Widmer said the bill was aimed primarily at the Teamsters Union. But he said "several unions pursue these tactics" in an effort to force organization.

State Chamber of Commerce

President Louis Ratzesberger Jr. said the bill would safeguard "the rights of employees to join or not to join a union." He said the alleged organizational picketing tactics were used primarily against small businesses such as laundries and filling stations which do not engage in interstate commerce and therefore do not come under the National Labor Relations Board.

He said such picketing is used as an "economic club to coerce" an employer "to force his employees into a union against their will."

Seeks Secretary from

Graduating Class

The business department of HTHS recently received a long-distance call from the superintendent of the Illinois Eye and Ear Infirmary of Chicago, asking for a graduating business student to be recommended as his secretary.

His present secretary, of HTHS class of 1954, was recently married, and he needs a secretary to replace her. He was so impressed with the training she received at HTHS that he wants a replacement from the school.

All of the merchantable timber marked or designated for cutting on a net area of approximately 7,900 acres on several separate plantations located throughout the Elizabethtown, Jonesboro, and Vienna Districts of the Shawnee National Forest in Southern Illinois, estimated to be 50,400 cords of shortleaf, loblolly, pitch and red pine pulpwood more or less. No bid of less than $2.00 per unpeeled cord-for stumpage and required deposits for sale area betterment will be considered for pine pulpwood. The rate bid will apply for all pulpwood scaled or released for cutting before December 31, 1961. Prior to December 31, 1961, and at each three year interval thereafter the total rates will be redetermined but in no event will the sum of the rates for stumpage and sale area betterment be less than the rate bid.

$1,000.00 must be deposited with each sealed bid to be applied on the purchase price, refunded, or retained in part as liquidated damages, according to the conditions of sale. At the time of the final award of the timber sale, the successful bidder will be required to furnish a satisfactory bond in the sum of $6,000.00. After final award of the sale, the purchaser will make subsequent payments upon request computed on the following basis: The dollar value of the minimum advance payment, permissive suspension balance to be maintained ahead of cutting, and the maximum advance balance which may be required will be based on the anticipated daily cutting rate and the average value per unit of measure which the purchaser agrees to pay.

Inside the main entrance of the Easter Seal Therapy Center at Carbondale is an inscription which reads:

"A man is never so tall as when he stoops to help a crippled child." Some 1328 youngsters had virtually the entire community to be grateful to last year. They were the crippled children who received care at the treatment center through Easter Seal contributions which make the facility possible.

Operated as one of the services to meet the speech and hearing needs of crippled children by the Southern Illinois Association For The Crippled, Inc., which sponsors the annual Easter Seal appeal in Southern Illinois, the center was among 181 such centers helping the crippled by Easter Seal societies throughout the United States and its territories.

Inside the walls of converted old houses, in downtown office buildings or in gleaming new structures, the same high quality of professional services were being provided to 19,665 children crippled by countless conditions.

Youngsters were learning to walk, talk and make both minds and bodies whole under medical prescription and professional supervision. Physical therapy, occupational therapy, speech therapy, social service and psychological services were helping crippled children early enough to lead them to independent adulthood.

The Easter Seal Therapy Center, located at 1300 South Thompson in Carbondale, is a major project of the Southern Illinois Asso-

"DELAYS BREED DANGERS"

One of the reasons why the average life expectancy is increasing each year is that people now are wise enough to consult their physician at the beginning of an illness. To delay proper treatment can be dangerous.

Grandma's home treatments were often helpful, but remember how long a cure took, and how weak they left you.

Don't handicap your physician's ability to help you. Always visit him at the beginning of an illness. Delay can be dangerous.

Along the Shawnee National Forest Trails

A TRIP THROUGH the Elizabethtown district of the Shawnee National Forest reveals the many-sided duties of the Forest Ranger and others working with him. The Forest Service provides the habitat for wildlife and in photo at upper left are three wild turkeys along a bubbling stream; upper right, Bill Casey, at right, game biologist and Jerry Klaviva, Forester, hold a wild turkey before it is turned loose in the forest; lower left, an unidentified forest worker uses a Reuel tree injector, called a "Bazooka", to insert a poison to kill undesirable timber in pine forest; lower right, Irving McDowell, at left, a fire warden and Julius Stuby, watcher at the Williams Hill fire lookout tower, inspect fire fighting equipment stored near the McDowell home in Karbers Ridge. There are twelve fire wardens with fire fighting equipment, including booster tanks, shovels, rakes, axes, etc. Fire Wardens are called the "backbone of the fire fighting program" in the Shawnee National Forest. The men have the authority to hire fire fighters and radio communication systems are so established that a warden can get a 100-man crew in action in an hour's time. At right Forest Ranger A. Claude Ferguson points to one of the disgraceful uses made of the forests—a dumping ground. Ranger Ferguson stated he and others constantly investigate reports of dumping rubbish in the forests and legal action had been taken in many cases. (Daily Register Staff Photos)

Bills Introduced in Legislature to Continue 2½ Per Cent State Sales Tax

SPRINGFIELD (U.P.) — Administration bills to continue the current 2½ per cent rate on the state sales tax and use tax awaited action by the General Assembly today.

The bills were introduced at a brief House session Thursday, and will begin moving through the Legislature next week when the legislators return to Springfield.

The 2½ per cent rate would be continued until the General Assembly acted specifically to change it, under the proposed legislation. The sales tax was boosted from 2 to 2½ per cent in 1955, with the half-cent increase due to expire June 30, 1957.

The 1955 Legislature also enacted

ed a city sales tax which permits Illinois cities to levy a half-cent tax in addition to the state tax, and in most Illinois communities the total tax is 3 per cent.

Other measures introduced Thursday include a bill to raise the minimum age for a driver's license to 16. Restricted licenses may now be issued at age 14.

One controversial bill introduced Thursday would ban the erection of billboards or advertising signs within 500 feet of any highway constructed in Illinois as part of the new federal interstate highway system.

Similar legislation is pending in Congress, where attempts are being made to prevent the use of billboards on the interstate system, for which the federal government provides 90 per cent of the costs.

Another bill introduced would permit the Highway Division to place white crosses along the highways at places where fatal accidents have occurred as a grim reminder to motorists to drive carefully.

FINED

Sophie M. Horoshko has been fined $10 and costs in county court on a charge of reckless driving.

Safety experts estimate traffic accidents would be reduced 40 to 50 per cent with an adequate system of highways.

Arnold Mills, 44, Former Gallatin Resident, Dies

Arnold Mills, 44, died suddenly at his home in Elgin at 10:30 p. m. Wednesday. He is survived by his wife, Rose, and his son, Bob Mills. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Mills of Gallatin county, also survive.

The body is in the care of the

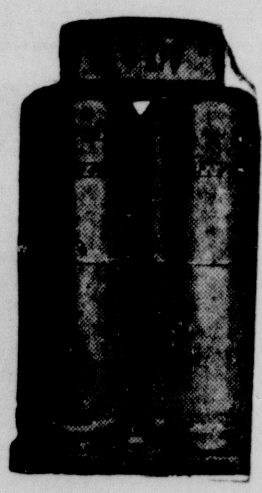

Cox funeral home in Ridgway where it will lie in state until the funeral Sunday at 2 p. m. The funeral will be held in the New Hope Baptist church in Gallatin county with the Rev. Don Rister and the Rev. James Karber officiating. Burial will be in the Old Cottonwood cemetery.

year here this month.

Back in 1927 in his first year on the SIU faculty, Lingle launched the first regular track schedule.
Prior to that time Southern had had only two track meets, a conference meet at McKendree College in 1916 and the other at old Ewing College in 1925.

In the 30 years since then, Lin-gle's teams have won numerous championships and have compiled an overall dual meet mark of 110 victories compared to only 30 losses. His teams have done even better in triangular clashes, capturing 10 while dropping only two,
giving Lingle an impressive dual-triangular 30-year record of 120 wins and 35 losses—a .774 percentage.

The climax in Lingle's long career came in Australia last November when he saw one of his products, Phil Coleman of Carbondale, become the first SIU athlete ever to participate in the Olympics. Lingle's former trackmen, alumni, and other fans contributed more than $1,700 to make the trip possible.

Says Better Than Ever

Ever since getting back, Lingle has been on a heavy banquet schedule, relating his Olympic experiences to dozens of groups in the Southern Illinois area. He enjoys telling his audiences about his experiences in Australia and often plays a tape recording of some of the proceedings.

Last week at the SIU coaching clinic he seemed to be re-living his Olympic experiences as a tape recorder brought forth the notes of the more than 200-piece Olympic band, which signalled the beginning of the opening march of the world's finest athletes.

Track is better than ever, according to Lingle, who has seen many improvements in the past three decades.

"Today's trackmen," observed
Lingle, "are the best in history.
These athletes, however, won't compare to the ones 20 or 30 years from now. We haven't approached the physical limits."

Emphasizing the continuing improvement, Lingle told about Vernon Sprche, former SIU sprinter from Nashville. "Our school record for the 100-yard dash is :09.9, but last year at the Interstate Conference meet Sprche ran the 100 in :09.85 and didn't even qualify for the finals.
A few years back he would have won first."

Better tracks, better equipment,
and a more scientific approach to training, diet, and exercises have

Leland P. (Doc) Lingle

brought faster times, says Lingle,
who adds, "Track coaching today is a science."

"Through visual aids, a grade school student can study the actions of a champion. T-V helps here, too," Lingle added that track is one of the few sports in which comparisons can be made truly through the years. "It's hard to compare past athletes in such sports as basketball, baseball, and football," said Lingle, "but a stopwatch gives you an accurate comparison in track."

Better coaching is also an important factor, according to Lingle, who never participated in college track because Southern at that time had no such sport.

"The tracks are better," continued Lingle, "and much of the equipment has been improved." He pointed out the advance from bamboo for pole vaulting to the present fiber-glass as one of the best improvements. "Starting blocks are also improved," he added.

"Better training in high school and grade school are other big aids. Boys who were outstanding in college track 20 years ago might not even letter today if they had the same times."

Lingle believes that track is not only the best all-around sport but is also the world's most universal sport. "Youngsters all over the world who may never have heard of basketball, baseball, and football have the same basic urges to run, jump, and throw. Track develops these skills more fully."

Lingle, who was a high jumper and middle distance man at Cobden high school before going to college at Southern, was principal and head football, basketball,
and track coach at Sikeston, Mo., for four years before joining the SIU staff.

Burke Carries Only One Stroke Lead in Masters

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Defending champion Jack Burke Jr. carried a shaky one-stroke lead today into the second round of the highest-scoring Masters Golf Tournament in 21 years.

And that lead was in immediate danger of an assault by veteran pro Marty Furgol of Lemont, Ill. Halted by darkness after shooting par golf for 17 holes Thursday, Furgol needed only a birdie on the 18th today to deadlock with curly-haired Jackie for the top spot.

After today's second round, the huge field of 100 will be chopped to the low 40 plus ties for the last two rounds — the first time the Masters has had to set any qualification test for its select field.

A Strange Masters

But then this is a strange Masters Tournament where no player in 100 could do better than Burke's one-under-par 71 on opening day. This is the first Masters since 1936, when lighthouse Harry Cooper led the field with 70 in the first round, that only one player was able to crack par for the first day.

A high wind, offshoot to tornadic conditions in the South, was one factor in the high scoring. Another was the contouring and placing of the pins on the expansive Augusta National greens which could double for heliports
in an emergency.

Burke got his lead on one spectacular hole, the 12th, with an eagle. His second landed on the brink of a creek but rolled away instead of into the water, and he dribbled a 55-footer into the cup.

Below Burke's standout 71, the Masters looked more like the in-terzone finals of the Davis Cup for tennis than an American golf tournament. Two Aussies — British Open champion Peter Thomson of Melbourne and Australian Open champion Bruce Crampton
of Sydney — were grouped at par
72 with Doug Ford of Mahopac,
N. Y., top money winner of 1957, and the two men who have won the Masters three times previously, Jimmy Demaret and Sam Snead.

The 73's included two other
British Empire men — veteran
Henry Cotton of London and Al
Balding, Canadian PGA champion from Islington, Ont. It was far and away the biggest foreign challenge to American control of the Masters in its 21 playings. All four Britons were in excellent positions.

The two Australians, Thomson
and the muscular Crampton, only 21, were finalists in the Australian Open with the kid winning.

Yankees Get Two Hits, Beat Phils, 1-0; Braves Get 16, Lose to Dodgers, 14-8

By United Press

In baseball, as in horse racing,
there are always the imponerables to consider.

How else could you explain the New York Yankees winning a spring exhibition game on only two hits and the Milwaukee
Braves losing a game despite a 16-hit barrage.

Eight spring time tuneups
Thursday produced a staggering total of 171 hits. That's an average of more than 21 hits a game.
Yet the Yankees needed only one of those bingles to defeat the Philadelphia Phillies, 1-0.

Robin Roberts worked the first eight innings for the Phillies, yielding only a safe bunt to Hank Bauer in the fourth inning. When Roberts was lifted for a pinch hitter, rookie Dick Farrell took over in the ninth and lost the game.
Woody Held tripled and scored on Gil McDougald's sacrifice fly.

The Braves, meanwhile, out-threw Brooklyn, 16-14, in a wild contest at San Antonio, Tex., but still lost out to the homer-happy Dodgers.
Duke Snider unloaded two home runs and Carl Furillo, Gino Cim-oli and Charley Neal each connected once to whip Milwaukee, 14-8.

Elsewhere along the exhibition
circuit, hits were a dime a dozen
... or cheaper.

The Baltimore Orioles, of all people, collected 22 safeties in whipping the Chicago Cubs, 18-5.

Tito Francona led the Baltimore hit parade with four, including a home run, while Bill Gardner also homered for the Orioles.

Cardinals Defeat Tigers

In another slugfest at Salt Lake City, the New York Giants broke a three-game losing streak with a 13-hit attack that wrecked the Cleveland Indians, 9-6. Allan Worthington went seven innings for the Giants and gave up eight hits, including two homers by Vic Wertz.

The Pittsburgh Pirates assaulted Virgil Trucks for eight hits and four runs in the first two innings
and hung on to defeat the Kansas City Athletics, 4-3. Gene Freese of Pittsburgh drove in two runs with two singles and also sparked in the field.

An impressive three-inning relief job by Ellis Kinder enabled the Chicago White Sox to edge the Boston Red Sox, 6-5, in 11 innings, while the Cincinnati Redlegs downed the Washington Senators,
5-4 on a 10th inning single by Don Hoak.

While all this hitting was going on Sam Jones and Hoyt Wilhelm
who were acquired in off-season trades, pitched the St. Louis Cardinals to a 5-4 victory over Detroit Tigers. Jones struck out seven and scattered six hits in seven innings, while Wilhelm choked off a bases-loaded rally by the Tigers in the eighth.

Saline County Association for Retarded Children Meets at Eldorado

The Saline County Association for Retarded Children met Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Reed of Eldorado. This was a regular meeting and the president, Mrs. Sara Ellen Nelson, presided at the business meeting. There were several important announcements made at this time, first that the quarterly meeting of the state council of the association will meet Saturday, April 13, at the L. and N. cafe in Mt. Vernon.

Another announcement of interest to this group is that the regional conference on exceptional children will hold a meeting Friday, May 17, at the University school auditorium at S. I. U. in Carbondale. This conference was planned by a local committee in conjunction with a council for all who are interested in the improvement of conditions for handicapped children. This group is comprised of parents, professional persons and interested citizens.

A third announcement was a bulletin from the office of public instruction, division of education for exceptional children. This is for the benefit of teachers interested in preparing to teach mentally handicapped children. There are five colleges in Illinois offering a sequence of courses leading to state certification in the program for mentally handicapped children, this summer. Perhaps the most significant to this area is the one offered at S. I. U. from June 17 to Aug. 10.

An announcement of particular interest locally is that Mrs. Mabel Burton of the Egyptian health department embracing three counties, public health nurse and nursing supervisor, will address the Morrisville grade school P. T. A. on the subject, "Mental Retardation," Tuesday, April 9, at 7 p. m.

Teacher Eats His Theory

ENID, Okla. (AP)—Capt. Roy C. Smith, of Enid Air Force Base, had to eat his theory that "there is no reason for a man to starve as long as the woods are full of insects and other animals." His survival training class Thursday gave him a farewell dinner of alligator soup, fried bumblebees, fried rattlesnakes, sautéed jumbo grasshoppers, fried Mexican worms and hard-boiled quail eggs.
